

PRESS RELEASE

One plenary, four technical sessions and thirty two oral presentations during second day of Annual Conference of Statistics

Director Research Dr J.P. Sharma and others during technical session of SSCA at Main Campus Chatha on Tuesday

19TH Annual Conference of the Society of Statistics, Computer and Applications (SSCA) on Statistics and Informatics in Agricultural and Allied Sciences being organized by the Division of Statistics & Computer Science, Faculty of Basic Sciences at SKUAST-J, Chatha campus wherein a special session on Statistics and Informatics in Protection of Plant varieties and Farmers Welfare for farmers was conducted on the second day of the conference. This session was attended by Prof. J. P. Sharma, Director Research, Prof. R.K.Arora, ADE, Prof. R. B. Barman, Chairman, National Statistical Commission, Prof. S. A. Mallick, Dean, F.B.Sc., Sh. O. P. Sharma, IFS and Prof. V.K. Gupta, President of the Society. During the lecture the farmers were aware about protection of plant varieties and farmer's right. The main highlight of the session was linkage of farmers with KVK through web portal wherein they get the solutions to their problems through the experts. An online talk from Oman by Dr. Murari Singh on Experimental Designs for estimating shrub and grass interaction was delivered to the participants. One plenary session and four technical sessions which include 32 presentations were also delivered from the eminent statisticians and experts from other field .